Brothers Hurt In Collision

Thomas and Charles Schwenn of Bristol, Wis., suffered serious injuries in a two-car collision at Route 173 and Wilnot Road at about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The accident occurred when the car driven by Thomas Schwenn, 16, northbound on Wilnot Road, failed to stop at the stop sign at Route 173 and collided with a car eastbound on Route 173 driven by Claude Alexander of 5978 North Lear, Chicago.

Thomas Schwenn, driver of the car, was the most seriously injured, receiving a fractured skull and broken leg. He was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad, and later to a Racine hospital.

His brother, Charles, 17, a passenger in the car, received a broken leg and head lacerations, and was also taken to Victory Memorial Hospital. Another passenger, 15-year-old Carol Colette, of Rt. 4, Antioch, suffered lacerations of the face and was taken to the Antioch Clinic by her father.

Both cars suffered considerable damage but Claude Alexander, driver of the second car, was apparently uninjured.

"It's Academic" Will Be on Sat.

If you forgot to turn your TV on at 6 p.m. last Saturday and thought you had missed seeing the Antioch High panel on "It's Academic," don't despair. You get a second chance.

The panel quiz show was cancelled last Saturday because of a football game. At present, the program is slated for next Saturday, January 5, at 6 p.m. on Channel 5.

Polish That Window, Boys!

The distaff half of the sexes constitutes an ever growing economic force. Women do most, or nearly most, of the nation's buying and investing, and their influence, exerted in one fashion or another, on this country's industries and businesses is far reaching.

That applies to just about every phase and factor of our national life. It even applies to gasoline service stations—as a survey just published by the Ethyl Corporation shows.

Nearly one out of every three women in one-car households buys all or most of the gasoline for the car she drives, and nearly half of the women buy their gasoline once a week or oftener. As an incidental bit of intelligence, 62 per cent of them buy regular gasoline as against 38 per cent buying premium.

Women drivers are strongly loyal to their local service stations and to the brand and grade of gasoline that they use. The big element here seems to be the quality of service which they are given. The survey asked what factors would be most influential in causing a switch of stations. Lowering the quality of the service was the outstanding reason. In the survey's words, "Apparently... it is far more difficult to convince a woman that one particular brand of gasoline is better than all others than it is to win her loyalty through careful attention to her car while in the station."

Flood of Toys Fills Need of Moose Drive

The people of Antioch responded to the "Toyful Christmas" Drive of the Moose with a flood of toys which insured a Merry Christmas for every needy child on the list, and some left over.

In an Open Letter to the people of Antioch, on the Editorial page, Ed Peterson, chairman of the project, thanks all who contributed to the success of the campaign.

Names of the boys and girls who might have had a lean Christmas were it not for "Operation Santa Claus" were obtained from local welfare agencies.

All-out co-operation with the Moose by many businesses and residents helped to insure the success of the drive. Stores and other agencies acted as collection depots for the toys; several truck owners volunteered their services to pick up and deliver the toys, and Moose volunteers worked overtime to sort, wrap and classify the toys.

Many letters have been received by the Moose committee complimenting them on the drive to help make Christmas merry for all the children whose families are not financially able to supply Christmas toys.

Plan County Highway Projects For 1963

County highway projects in 16 of the 18 Lake County townships during 1963 will cost a total of $2,550,491 with 39.9 miles of construction involved in the program, according to Melvin E. Amstutz, superintendent of the Lake County Highway Department.

The construction calendar lists 23 projects, some of which were started during the 1962 construction period and will be completed in 1963 and some of which will be started in 1963 and completed the following year, Amstutz said.

Topping the projects, cost-wise, will be the construction of one mile of four lane concrete pavement on Grand Ave. from the DesPlaines River to the Illinois Tollway in Warren Township.

This project to be constructed at an estimated cost of $60,489,190 will extend the Grand Ave. improvement from the toll road to Berwick Ave. in Waukegan which was completed in 1962 at a total cost to the county of $1,165,622 plus $343,855.60 in right of way.

Work on Grand Ave. and Rollins Rd. in Lake Villa and Avon Townships is slated for completion in 1963 with bituminous surfacing budgeted at $55,000. Base construction on the 2.5 miles was completed in 1962 at a cost of $159,343.

Bituminous paving is slated for Deep Lake Rd. from Millburn Rd. to Rte. 173 and from Rte. 173 to North Ave. in Antioch at a total cost of $70,000 for the 3.48 miles in Antioch Township.

The county highway department has budgeted $140,000 for the base construction and blacktopping of Sand Lake Rd. between Grand Ave. and Rte. 45 in Lake Villa Township, and in Avon Township Fort Hill Rd. will be blacktopped from Rte. 120 to Rte. 134 at a cost of $36,000 for the two miles.

Concrete pavement will be installed at the intersection of Rte. 21 and Rollins Rd. at a cost of $80,000 as part of a project to reduce the traffic hazard at the intersection.

Friday night's game against Elia-Vernon will see the initial experiment in closed circuit TV coverage of the game.

The Fighting-Sequoits have played to overflow crowds in all their home games this year. Fresh from winning the Christmas Holiday Tournament, an even larger crowd than usual is expected for this first post-holiday game.

This Friday night, when the gym is filled, customers may, if they choose, view the game on a monitor in the Annex, east of the gym. The TV coverage is being provided by Industrial TV Services, Inc., of Chicago. Because this first night will be experimental, customers viewing the game in the Annex will not be charged admission. If the experiment proves the system satisfactory, there will be a charge thereafter when TV coverage is supplied in subsequent games.

states that the survey was undertaken as a service to the oil industry in order to provide marketers with the latest information on the growing potential of women in the gasoline market. This would seem to be a case where the ancient French maxim of "cherchez la femme" applies. The service station operator who secures women customers, and is able to satisfy them with his quality of service, is destined for success.

Postage Up On Jan. 7

The new nickel letter rate recently enacted into law is the same postage rate Americans paid for letters when the United States issued its first postage stamps 115 years ago, Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk said yesterday. The new rate goes into effect Jan. 7.

Research shows that, in 1847, the Post Office Department issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepared letter rate, Postmaster Kufalk said.

A nickel was a lot harder to come by in those days, the Postmaster added.

Since 1932, Postmaster Kufalk said, while living costs for the American family have skyrocketed by 118 per cent, the cost of mailing a first-class letter has only increased by one cent, or 22 percent. At 5c, he said, as in 1847—it will still be one of the greatest bargains in American history.

Of the total volume of first-class letter mail handled locally and in the nation, 75 percent, he said, is generated by business concerns. The remaining 25 percent, he continued, generally consists of personal letters to friends and relatives, and individual business correspondence.

The one-cent increase on first class mail, he noted, will offset the average family of about $1.80 a year.

He cautioned, however, that patrons after January 1 must affix an additional penny stamp when using 4c stamps to send first-class letters.

The new 5c stamp, he said, will bear the picture of George Washington and will be printed in blue. In all, he added, more than 70 different George Washington stamps have been issued and the number of such Washington stamps sold totals more than 405 billion.

Investigators Uncover Relief Frauds in 1962

The accomplishments of a new division of field investigators, organized by Auditor Michael J. Howlett, were recently released by the auditor's office.

Although there was no appropriation for a field investigators division in the 72nd biennium, the Auditor organized a unit which is now fully operational, with seven investigators.

Expenses for the unit were absorbed in the appropriation for the Accounting Division. Since then, investigators have physically observed the distribution of about 16,000 payroll warrants to employees in state agencies selected at random.

An examination of Illinois Public Aid Commission purchases by the Auditor's investigators has resulted in a change in the commission's purchasing procedures. All purchases by the commission must now be processed through the state purchasing agent and approved by the Department of Finance.

The Auditor's investigators made a study of payments to doctors and druggists by the IPAC which led to a complete review of the medical program of the IPAC in cooperation with the Illinois Medical Society.

A report of payments to doctors and druggists in St. Clair County was given to State's Attorney John Marshall Karns, Jr., who was quoted in a Belleville newspaper as "expressing amazement at the astronomical bill submitted for medical care and drugs for relief clients."

An investigation of nursing homes by the Auditor's field men turned up evidence of inadequate records of what happens to personal allowances for relief patients in the homes, paid for by the state.

About 6,000 public aid recipients in the homes are a month by the state for personal needs. The Auditor's investigation found indications that personal allowances were diverted to maintain the operations of some homes in financial distress.

In another nursing home, evidence was obtained that patients were charged for rental of hospital gowns they didn't want and hadn't received, and for burial gowns they hadn't ordered.

As a result of the Auditor's findings, the state Department of Public Health is examining the record keeping procedures of nursing homes and considering methods to determine continued financial responsibility of the homes.

In Rockford, three persons were indicted and pled guilty to illegally cashing four Public Aid warrants after an investigation in which the Auditor's field men participated.

Investigations are made constantly of complaints received from taxpayers about suspicion of irregularity in various agencies. Each complaint is investigated, and the complaining taxpayer is informed of the result.

Refunds on Gas Co. Bills

Gas bills for Northern Illinois Gas Company customers will reflect a pipeline rate reduction and a refund of approximately $4,120,000 from one of its suppliers, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, during the next 12 months.

According to H. E. Ford, vice president, this follows announcement made in October by NI-Gas and the present total reflects the additional period plus interest. It will apply to all NI-Gas customers.

Within the next month, NI-Gas plans to begin passing this back to gas users in 332 northern Illinois communities outside of Chicago in the form of credits on gas bills over a 12-month period. Residential customers using gas for space heating will save an average of nearly five dollars over the next 12 months.

NICC Hears Harth, Ice Derby Plans

By Harry H. Stern

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club was host to two distinguished members of the Illinois Conservation Department at their December meeting. Principal speaker of the evening was Superintendent of the Fisheries Division, William Harth, and he gave a thumbnail sketch of the growth of his department, beginning with the first biologist in 1948 and consisting of 12 of these scientists at present. The Club learned that the fisheries division totals 30 employees, including Harth, the biologists, office help and all the others. When one considers the number of lakes and streams in this state and the many problems that are connected with them, it is small wonder that our lakes do not get the attention they require. These dedicated people are spread-out too thin to be able to give any area the time and effort needed to accomplish their work.

Another fact that was brought out was thought provoking. The state sells about 850,000 fishing licenses annually for somewhere in the vicinity of $1,700,000 and yet appropriations of only $600,000 per year for this division. Where does the rest of it go and why is it not used in the area for which it is raised, wondered Elmer Eberman?

During a lively question and answer period, Harth advised the Club that their petition for a comprehensive survey of the Chain of Lakes was favorably received by William T. Lodge, Director of the department of conservation and that plans were under consideration to proceed with it. Bruce Muench, state biologist for the northern part of the state, enumerated the items which he would like to investigate in this survey, among which would be a count of the species of fish and their number, in all of the lakes, and at the different seasons of the year, as well as those that were in the various channels, as opposed to those in the lakes proper. The insects and larvae living in the lakes bottoms would be looked into, since the kind and their number would be indicative of the condition of the water. And most important, Muench would check the chemical makeup of the water at various places in the Chain and at different times, for this might clearly show whether some agent is present in sufficient concentration that is killing off the weed beds; and what it is. A report that large numbers of bluegills were dying in Nippersink Lake in the vicinity of Riverside Island was re-

Game time is set for 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 27. Win or lose, the Sequoits will play again Friday night.

Should the Sequoits win they will meet the winner of the Lake Park-St. Edwards game at 9:30 Friday night. The loser of the Kelyvn Park-Antioch game will play the loser of the St. Edwards game Friday at 6:30 p.m. "It promises to be a good tournament," Coach Andrews said, "and we hope to see many Antioch rooters down for the game Thursday. FAMOUS LAST WORDS:

Rabbit Hunters Should Beware Of Tularemia

Small-game hunters are warned to be extra cautious in picking their prey this month, for the incidence rate of tularemia (rabbit fever) is traditionally much higher in December than in any other month, according to an article in the Illinois Medical Journal, official publication of the Illinois State Medical Society.

Though tularemia has declined steadily since 1957, it remains a serious disease, said Dr. Julius M. Kowalski, Princeton, (Ill.) chairman of the society's Public Safety Committee, with some 305 cases reported in the nation last year.

The disease is transmitted by an infected female wood tick to such animals as rabbits, squirrels, gophers, woodchucks, ground birds such as pheasants and quail, and all woodland animals.

Since rabbit hunting far exceeds all other types of hunting, "infected rabbit carcasses are the predominant offenders in transmission of tularemia to humans . . . hence the name 'rabbit fever,'" observed Dr. Kowalski.

The disease is most frequently acquired while skinning or butchering infected game, in the process of dressing game birds, eating infected game inadequately cooked, and by drinking contaminated water.

"Tularemia symptoms are akin to influenza," Dr. Kowalski said, "with sudden onset, severe headache, chills and fever, and requiring an incubation of up to ten days."

In most cases, he added, an ulcer arises at the site where the organisms gained entrance to the body, usually the fingers or hands. Though streptomycin and dihydrostreptomycin are used effectively in treating the disease, "no immunizing agent has as yet been developed against tularemia," Dr. Kowalski revealed.

"However, there are a number of precautions a hunter can take to minimize the risk of infection," he said. They include the following:

1. Don't shoot sluggish, slow moving animals. Such game is more likely to be infected.
2. Discard any animal sporting light colored tubercles (about the size of a match head) on the surface of its reddish-brown liver, for it, too, is infected.
3. Since tularemia can be transmitted through the skin, always wear rubber gloves to protect the hands while dressing game. Also, avoid splashing of blood or rinse water on the arms.
4. Bury or burn any suspected carcass to reduce the spread of disease to scavengers.
5. Cook all game thoroughly to destroy the organisms. (Holding game in a freezer locker for long periods will not reduce the hazard of the illness.)

Winterkill Threatens

Water levels in many Northern Illinois lakes and ponds are low enough to help bring about a loss of fish this winter, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced.

The threat of winterkill is related to the depth of water and the depth and duration of snow cover. Any extended period of heavy snow cover will present a real hazard to the fish in shallow bodies of water.

Persons interested in preventing winterkills of fish are advised to remove strips of snow from the ice and keep the strips as free from snow as possible.

Count Your Blessings

This quick exchange of letters took place between a farmer and a poultry dealer: "Dear Sir: The crate you shipped those hens in was so dilapidated it fell apart while I was bringing it home from the depot and all the hens escaped. I only rounded up ten of them."

The reply: "Dear Sir: 'Congratulations on your vigilance. There were only eight hens in the crate when it left here.'"

"After I slammed my fist down on his desk and demanded a raise, you" should have seen the sheepish way he said, 'You're fired!'

News of Ill. Veterans

Veterans receiving compensation for service-connected disabilities may be entitled to local out-patient treatment.

Mr. Edward B. Akin, Administrator, Illinois Veterans' Commission today issued a reminder to veterans suffering from service incurred disabilities and who are in need of treatment that home town medical treatment may be secured in cooperation with physicians participating in the Veterans Administration medical program. Under certain circumstances, Mr. Akin added that medicine can be supplied directly to a veteran from the Veterans Administration. Veterans receiving non-service connected pension are not entitled to out-patient treatment or medicine.

Mr. Akin urged recipients of compensation who are in need of treatment for such service connected conditions to contact the nearest office of the Illinois Veterans' Commission for assistance in obtaining authorization for treatment or medicine.

In Lake County, veterans should contact the Illinois Veterans' Commission office at 108 S. Genesee Street in Waukegan. The office is open Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Ill. Pilots Meet At Rockford

In recognition of the increasing interest of Illinois pilots in the safety techniques, a two-day safety course will be held in Rockford on Jan. 4 and 5, according to J. E. Wenzel, director of the Illinois Department of Aeronautics.

Wenzel said the course will be divided into advanced and professional levels of instruction to provide pilots with more information than generally is available. All pilots registered in Illinois are invited to attend the sessions, he said.

Pilot's registration will be from 8 to 9 a.m., Friday, Jan. 4, at the Rockford Theatre.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN WIECEK of Rt. 3, Antioch, took third place in the Moose Home Decorating Contest with this Christmas scene.

Announce Winners In Moose Home Decorating Contest

Winners in the Antioch Moose Christmas Home Decorating Contest were announced this week.

The homes were judged on Sunday, Dec. 23. Prizes were awarded by Governor Ronald Polson and Senior Regent Mrs. Seth Marks on December 25.

The Decorating Contest is an annual affair. All homes within the village limits of Antioch are considered, and in addition any homes in outlying areas whose owners request the Moose to consider them in the contest.

From the dozens of beautifully decorated homes in the Antioch area, four winners were finally selected.

First place, a large gold plate, was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Telinsky, Rt. 3, Box 738, Antioch. Second place, a gold leaf dish, went to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lombardo, 239 Maplewood Drive, Antioch. Third place, a gold dish, to Mr. and Mrs. John Wiecek, Rt. 3, Box 277, Antioch. Brothers Hurt In Collision

Thomas and Charles Schwenn of Bristol, Wis., suffered serious injuries in a two-car collision at Route 173 and Wilmet Road at about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The accident occurred when the car driven by Thomas Schwenn, 16, northbound on Wilmet Road, failed to stop at the stop sign at Route 173 and collided with a car eastbound on Route 173 driven by Claude Alexander of 5978 North Lear, Chicago.

Thomas Schwenn, driver of the car, was the most seriously injured, receiving a fractured skull and broken leg. He was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad, and later to a Racine hospital.

His brother, Charles, 17, a passenger in the car, received a broken leg and head lacerations, and was also taken to Victory Memorial Hospital. Another passenger, 15-year-old Carol Collette of Rt. 4, Antioch, suffered lacerations of the face and was taken to the Antioch Clinic by her father.

Both cars suffered considerable damage but Claude Alexander, driver of the second car, was apparently uninjured.

"It's Academic" Will Be on Sat.

If you forgot to turn your TV on at 6 p.m. last Saturday and thought you had missed seeing the Antioch High panel on "It's Academic", don't despair. You get a second chance.

The panel quiz show was cancelled that a football game might be presented. At present, the program is slated for next Saturday, January 5, at 6 p.m. on Channel 5.

Polish That Window, Boys!

The distaff half of the sexes constitutes an ever growing economic force. Women do most, or nearly most of the nation's buying and investing, and their influence, exerted in one fashion or another, on this country's industries and businesses is far reaching.

That applies to just about every phase and factor of our national life. It even applies to gasoline service stations—as a survey just published by the Ethyl Corporation shows.

Nearly one out of every three women in one-car households buys all or most of the gasoline for the car she drives, and nearly half of the women buy their gasoline once a week or oftener. As an incidental bit of intelligence, 62 per cent of them buy regular gasoline as against 38 per cent buying premium.

Women drivers are strongly loyal to their local service stations and to the brand and grade of gasoline that they use. The big element here seems to be the quality of service which they are given. The survey asked what factors would be most influential in causing a switch of stations. Lowering the quality of the service was the outstanding reason. In the survey's words, "Apparently... it is far more difficult to convince a woman that one particular brand of gasoline is better than all others than it is to win her loyalty through careful attention to her car while in the station."

Flood of Toys Fills Need of Moose Drive

The people of Antioch responded to the "Toyful Christmas" Drive of the Moose with a flood of toys which insured a Merry Christmas for every needy child on the list, and some left over.

In an Open Letter to the people of Antioch, on the Editorial page, Ed Peterson, chairman of the project, thanks all who contributed to the success of the campaign.

Names of the boys and girls who might have had a lean Christmas were it not for "Operation Santa Claus" were obtained from local welfare agencies.

All-out co-operation with the Moose by many businesses and residents helped to insure the success of the drive. Stores and other agencies acted as collection depots for the toys; several truck owners volunteered their services to pick up and deliver the toys, and Moose volunteers worked overtime to sort, wrap and classify the toys.

Many letters have been received by the Moose committee complimenting them on the drive to help make Christmas merry for all the children whose families are not financially able to supply Christmas toys.

Plan County Highway Projects For 1963

County highway projects in 16 of the 18 Lake County townships during 1963 will cost a total of $2,550,491 with 39.9 miles of construction involved in the program, according to Melvin E. Amstutz, superintendent of the Lake County Highway Department.

The construction calendar lists 23 projects, some of which were started during the 1962 construction period and will be completed in 1963 and some of which will be started in 1963 and completed the following year, Amstutz said.

Topping the projects, cost-wise, will be the construction of one mile of four-lane concrete pavement on Grand Ave. from the DesPlaines

River to the Illinois Tollway in Warren Township.

This project to be constructed at an estimated cost of $69,469,190 will extend the Grand Ave. improvement from the toll road to Berwick Ave. in Waukegan which was completed in 1962 at a total cost to the county of $1,165,622 plus $343,655.60 in right of way.

Work on Cedar Lake Rd. between Grand Ave. and Rollins Rd. in Lake Villa and Avon Townships is slated for completion in 1963 with bituminous surfacing budgeted at $55,000. Base construction on the 2.5 miles was completed in 1962 at a cost of $150,343.

Bituminous paving is slated for Deep Lake Rd. from Millburn Rd. to Rte. 173 and from Rte. 173 to North Ave. in Antioch at a total cost of $70,000 for the 3.48 miles in Antioch Township.

The county highway department has budgeted $140,000 for the base construction and blacktopping of Sand Lake Rd. between Grand Ave. and Rte. 45 in Lake Villa Township, and in Avon Township Fort Hill Rd. will be blacktopped from Rte. 120 to Rte. 134 at a cost of $36,000 for the two miles.

Concrete pavement will be installed at the intersection of Rte. 21 and Rollins Rd. at a cost of $80,000 as part of a project to reduce the traffic hazard at the intersection.

Sequoits To Be on TV

Game Coverage On Screen For Overflow

Latecomers to the basketball games at the Antioch High School who can not be accommodated in the High School gym will have a chance to view the game on TV at the school this Friday night.

Friday night's game against Elia-Vernon will see the initial experiment in closed circuit TV coverage of the game.

The Fighting Sequoits have played to overflow crowds in all their home games this year. Fresh from winning the Christmas Holiday Tournament, an even larger crowd than usual is expected for this first post-holiday game.

Nearly one out of every three women in one-car households buys all or most of the gasoline for the car she drives, and nearly half of the women buy their gasoline once a week or oftener. As an incidental bit of intelligence, 62 per cent of them buy regular gasoline as against 38 per cent buying premium.

Women drivers are strongly loyal to their local service stations and to the brand and grade of gasoline that they use. The big element here seems to be the quality of service which they are given. The survey asked what factors would be most influential in causing a switch of stations. Lowering the quality of the service was the outstanding reason. In the survey's words, "Apparently... it is far more difficult to convince a woman that one particular brand of gasoline is better than all others than it is to win her loyalty through careful attention to her car while in the station."

The Ethyl Corporation states that the survey was undertaken as a service to the oil industry in order to provide marketers with the latest information on the growing potential of women in the gasoline market. This would seem to be a case where the ancient French maxim of "cherchez la femme" applies. The service station operator who secures women customers, and is able to satisfy them with his quality of service, is destined for success.

Postage Up On Jan. 7

The new nickel letter rate recently enacted into law is the same postage rate Americans paid for letters when the United States issued its first postage stamps 115 years ago, Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk said yesterday. The new rate goes into effect Jan. 7.

Research shows that, in 1847, the Post Office Department issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepared letter rate, Postmaster Kufalk said.

A nickel was a lot harder to come by in those days, the Postmaster added.

Since 1932, Postmaster Kufalk said, while living costs for the American family have skyrocketed by 118 per cent, the cost of mailing a first-class letter has only increased by one cent, or 22 percent. At 5c, he said, as in 1847—it will still be one of the greatest bargains in American history.

Of the total volume of first-class letter mail handled locally and in the nation, 75 percent, he said, is generated by business concerns. The remaining 25 per cent, he continued, generally consists of personal letters to friends and relatives, and individual business correspondence.

The one-cent increase on first class mail, he noted, will cost the average family about $1.80 a year.

He cautioned, however, that patrons after January 1 must affix an additional penny stamp when using 4c letters to send first-class letters.

The new 5c stamp, he said, will bear the picture of George Washington and will be printed in blue. In all, he added, more than 70 different George Washington stamps have been issued and the number of such Washington stamps sold totals more than 405 billion.

Investigators Uncover Relief Frauds in 1962

The accomplishments of a new division of field investigators, organized by Auditor Michael J. Howlett, were recently released by the auditor's office.

Although there was no appropriation for a field investigators division in the 72nd biennium, the Auditor organized a unit which is now fully operational, with seven investigators.

Expenses for the unit were absorbed in the appropriation for the Accounting Division. Since then, investigators have physically observed the distribution of about 16,000 payroll warrants to employees in state agencies selected at random.

An examination of Illinois Public Aid Commission purchases by the Auditor's investigators has resulted in a change in the commission's purchasing procedures. All purchases by the commission must now be processed through the state purchasing agent and approved by the Department of Finance.

The Auditor's investigators made a study of payments to doctors and druggists by the IPAC which led to a complete review of the medical program of the IPAC in cooperation with the Illinois Medical Society.

A report of payments to doctors and druggists in St. Clair County was given to State's Attorney John Marshall Karns, Jr., who was quoted in a Belleville newspaper as "expressing amazement at the astronomical bill submitted for medical care and drugs for relief clients."

An investigation of nursing homes by the Auditor's field men turned up evidence of inadequate records of what happens to personal allowances for relief patients in the homes, paid for by the state.

About 6,000 public aid recipients in the homes are given allowances of $2.40 to $10 a month by the state for personal needs. The Auditor's investigation found indications that personal allowances were diverted to maintain the operations of some homes in financial distress.

In another nursing home, evidence was obtained that patients were charged for rental of hospital gowns they didn't want and hadn't received, and for burial gowns they hadn't ordered.

As a result of the Auditor's findings, the state Department of Public Health is examining the record keeping procedures of nursing homes and considering methods to determine continued financial responsibility of the homes.

In Rockford, three persons were indicted and pled guilty to illegally cashing four Public Aid warrants after an investigation in which the Auditor's field men participated.

Investigations are made constantly of complaints received from taxpayers about suspicion of irregularity in various agencies. Each complaint is investigated, and the complaining taxpayer is informed of the result.

Refunds on Gas Co. Bills

Gas bills for Northern Illinois Gas Company customers will reflect a pipeline rate reduction and a refund of approximately $4,120,000 from one of its suppliers, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, during the next 12 months.

According to H. E. Ford, vice president, this follows announcement made in October by NI-Gas and the present total reflects the additional period plus interest. It will apply to all NI-Gas customers.

Within the next month, NI-Gas plans to begin passing this back to gas users in 332 northern Illinois communities outside of Chicago in the form of credits on gas bills over a 12-month period. Residential customers using gas for space heating will save an average of nearly five dollars over the next 12 months.

EDITORIAL

A New Year—A New Plaza?

The old year is gone, and the pages of the 1963 calendar are flipping past.

It looks as though it may be a big year for Antioch and Lake County. A lot of changes seem to be in the works. Whether or not the town will derive the full potential benefits from the changes will probably be decided by the enthusiasm and support of the public and various organizations.

It appears to be certain that the Antioch Savings & Loan will build its shopping plaza. Whether or not the larger plaza planned by a group represented by Frederick Walpole will be located within the village limits or not seems to be still undecided.

Lacking an active Chamber of Commerce, seems as though it would be wise for Antioch businessmen to urge Mr. Walpole to settle on the proposed site in Antioch.

A good-sized shopping Plaza in Antioch could keep a lot of shoppers at home. Establishment of a Plaza outside the village, to the east or south, would be more likely to benefit other towns than Antioch.

With the opening of the Sears store at Fox Lake, there will certainly be need of a counter-attraction in Antioch if merchants hope to see many shoppers on the streets this next year.

Lost In Criticism— A Lot Of Good Ideas

The success of the Moose Lodge's drive for toys, with the full support of Antioch residents and the co-operation of various officials, proves that the people of Antioch can work together—even if it takes kids and Christmas to accomplish it.

Watching the pulling and hauling, the gradual disintegration and death of other organizations and projects, we've sometimes wondered, in the past, if such a happy state of affairs could ever come to pass.

Speculating at some of the meetings involving discussion of various projects is a little like watching the U.N. in action. No matter what's suggested, somebody's slighted, someone is accused of pushing his private interests, someone dreams up some possible catastrophic repercussions, or someone vetoes it on the grounds that "somebody else tried that and it didn't work."

The man, of the town, who never made a mistake, is the man or the town who never did anything. What's so cataclysmic about a few mistakes? Enthusiastic support will ignore and override errors in judgment.

What benefits Antioch benefits everyone who lives in and near Antioch. And it takes more than one organization, or one group, to make a success of anything. So let's try to forget self-interest, and credit lines, petty jealousies, and offer at least our moral support in the New Year to every suggested worthwhile project.

Along The Way

With
Annie Mae

Now is the time for the professional and amateur alike to reach into his intuition and past experience to come up with predictions for 1963. Business analysts frantically search for indications of what Mr. Consumer will do with his dollar this year. Politicians will seek, in every nook and cranny, signs that will tell him how Mr. and Mrs. American Voter will mark their ballots this year. Statisticians will earnestly study charts and figures to predict how many will be born, die in accidents, marry, go to college and a host of other estimates. Among all the other predictions to be made, I should like to add one of my own. I predict that in 1963 Annie Mae will continue the Lord willing to keep her hand on your pulse in an effort to keep your friends and neighbors informed of the humorous and human interest stories as they happen.

THE LATEST REPORT: Did you get a look at that really different star decoration (with the Sheriff's picture in it) on Earl Horton's house out on North Ave? ... The Dr. Ed. Warners will be storkawaiting in early 1963 ... Sheriff Larson and his B. W. and friends arrived at Lorenz's New Year's Eve via that shiny new Cadillac. ... Windsor Dr. was really the scene of New Year's Eve Revelry with house parties at the Bruno Manardo's, the James Carlson's and the Dr. F. Bobzien's.

FORGET YOU NOT: The Northern Illinois Conservation Club's annual Ice Fishing Derby Sunday, Jan. 13th ... to write all your past due letters and mail them before Monday to use up all your 4-cent stamps.

THE LAST DROP: The teachers and students at the Antioch Grade School will have no more excuses for being late when Don Pittman elects that "giant" sized clock on the corner of his Pittman Motors lot. ... Mr. and Mrs. George Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brook will go down on record as the first party hosts of 1963, with their delightful annual New Year's morning brunch.

DID YOU HEAR: Most of us never put our best foot forward until the other one is in hot water!

That's the Way

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Antioch:

The "Toyful Christmas" was a tremendous success, thanks to all those who contributed. To the merchants who gave space to our barrels, without their help we could not have made our collection. To the many people who gave toys, the response was overwhelming. This gave many children a very merry Christmas. I would also like to thank our civic organizations and churches for the names of families where your toys were most needed.

On Christmas Eve, Santa Claus and I delivered the toys to the needy families. If the donors had seen the happy faces on the youngsters, they would have felt as I did, "It is more blessed to give than receive."

The entire membership of the Moose Lodge wish to thank everyone who took part in the "Toyful Christmas."

A Happy New Year to All.
Ed Petersen
Chairman

(Editor's Note: Ed Petersen reports that Public response to the "Toyful Christmas" drive of the Moose Lodge was so overwhelming that, after filling the stockings of children in the area, many toys were taken to the Central Baptist Home in Lake Villa for distribution.)

To the Editor:
Please express our gratitude and appreciation to the Moose Lodge of Antioch for assuming the responsibility of my transfusion during my recent illness. My family and I wish them God's Blessing for the New Year with a humble heart.

Sincerely,

The George Plack Family

Your Governor Reports by OTTO KERNER

Let me take this opportunity to wish all citizens of Illinois a happy and prosperous New Year and to ask that we join in a resolution as old as our nation—a pledge that has given us the strength to meet all dangers, such as those that face the world today.

For the protection of our freedoms, let us pledge, as did our forefathers, "to enshrine other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor."

These cherished words bid us remember what we should never forget—that we speak of our country, our state, we speak of people. We speak of you and me and those next door. Our forefathers pledged to create a land of liberty, and they did it. This generation of Americans must pledge to maintain our liberties and, if called upon, work and fight for that resolution.

This is no resolution to be made in the merriment of the New Year's holiday festivities and then quickly broken, as are so many others; because when one man breaks this resolution he robs his countrymen of a bit of the collective strength of our nation.

We need the strength of each man. The circumstances that caused our forefathers to create our country are still at work in the world—greed, the lust for power and all the sins of tyranny.

Thankfully, each new generation in the United States continues to hold certain truths self-evident, among them Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. So long as each of us continues to hold such rights, not only self-evident, but inviolate, we will remain free.

Better sit down and write all those letters you've been meaning to write all year. After Jan. 7, it'll cost you 1c more for each letter.

Of course, if you're a real, dyed-in-the-wool procrastinator, you can wait till after Monday and you'll have a real excuse for putting it off for another year. After all, how many people do you know that you really want to spend 5c on?

Maybe the new postal rate will discourage the practice of sending hundreds of Christmas cards. It might.

The tenets of our Democracy are no less precious today than they were when the Declaration of Independence was written. On the contrary, our way of life and our people have taken on infinitely greater meaning because our nation stands as the citadel of hope for the world.

So let us make the words of the Declaration of Independence our New Year's resolution each and every year.

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor."

FOR YOUNGSTERS ONLY

Dear Kids:

Skating weather has been good.

The skating rink? Where is it?

Santa Claus is a good fellow but he doesn't have the time to build skating rinks.

We grown-ups flunked out, again. The reason? Cold feet—too busy—not enough tail twisting. The old Maverick takes his share of the blame for the failure. You know, you kids must be covered by insurance now for ice skating. If you stub your toe or bump your fanny it must be covered by a blanket policy. Nuts!

Why don't you youngsters make your own rinks? We did. It is a lot of fun and a specific remedy for televisitis.

Williams Park has several good areas for a skating rink. BUT!

Speaking of parks, the Antioch News has informed us that our Village Board is selling ours.

At a very nominal cost the area recently sold could have been made into a fine summer and winter recreation area. Selling price, $7,500.00. In the old Maverick's opinion it is worth twice that amount as business property and several times that as an industrial park and youngsters play ground.

You kids have lost out again. Ask your friends on the Village Board why it was necessary to sell. Where does the money go? Who gains? Perhaps some members of the Board will use the columns of The Antioch News to enlighten us.

The "News" reports that the purchaser's use of the property will be for an office and for the repair of trucks and excavating equipment. Let us hope that the future use of the property will not detract from the very fine industrial buildings and grounds that have been built.

Our Village Board sells. They should be buying.

Take a look at the parks and playgrounds in Zion. They rank high in our state for a village of its size. They spend a great deal for this purpose. We spend peanuts. Their state sales tax revenue is only a little more than that received by Antioch.

Have patience, youngsters. The Old Maverick has just a little more that you may not know.

The Annual Appropriation Ordinance of the Village of Antioch budgets $1000.00 for maintenance of parks and $1000.00 for maintenance of playgrounds.

What parks? What playgrounds?

Ask our friends on the Village Board how much is spent annually for these items.

You youngsters can build a skating rink. The old Maverick knows that there are a number of young grown-ups and a few older grown-ups who will give you a hand.

For next year let us start this project in mid-summer-1963.

Happy New Year

The Old Maverick.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS 2 THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1963

not be a bad idea to send out next year's cards now. Just write "Do Not Open Until Christmas on each one. You'll save money by mailing now, you won't have all that work to do next Christmas. Christmas cards are on sale now, and you can be sure that the recipient of the card will know he's on your mailing list and will send you one.

NUMBER, PLEASE

The telephone company is having a hard time convincing people that it's as easy to remember seven numbers as two letters and five numbers. Of course, when you tack on the area code, it's nine numbers.

Unfortunately, few of us are number-minded. Four letters seems to be the limit for my memory. It's difficult to associate numbers with anything to jog one's memory.

No doubt, it's largely a matter of training oneself to remember numbers. Perhaps the next generation will find it simple. But in the meantime, the telephone company finds itself slapped with court suits and has to defend its all-number system.

Maybe, after we get used to memorizing the all-number telephone numbers, we'll be able to comprehend the government budgets and expenses.

Mother: "Now, Freddie, wouldn't you like to give your football to that poor little boy who hasn't a daddy?"

Freddie (clutching football): "Couldn't we give him Daddy instead?"

MY OLE GRANDPAPPY USED TO SAY!

By the Rev. Fr. Edmond E. Hood

The man who leaves the house looking for trouble, will generally have a short walk.

The man who does right only because he is paid for it, needs only a raise in wages to become a complete rogue.

People are scarce who think that the folks in the next house have religion enough.

The devil is puzzled about the man who will behave himself when he isn't being watched!

To all of our friends and neighbors who were so considerate and kind as to remember us at Christmas by sending cards; the family Hood wishes for each and all a most blessed Yuletide and a Happy and Prosperous New Year. Your cards and thoughtfulness were appreciated by us all. God bless you each and every one!

Muench Investigates Fish Kill in Antioch Chain O' Lakes

Bruce Muench, conservation department biologist in charge of the Northern Area Fisheries Headquarters, in response to a report of a large fish kill in Nippersink Lake which was received by Harry H. Stern, publicity director of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club, made an on the spot investigation in an effort to determine the extent of the kill and its apparent cause.

It appears that too much time elapsed between the date of the fish kill and the time it was received by Muench on Dec. 19 to pinpoint the culprit. This is what he reported to Stern: "On Friday, December 21, I went out on Nippersink Bay behind Riverside Island to check up on the fish kill there that was reported Wednesday. I could see several bluegills, mostly large, frozen up against the underside of the ice. There were also numerous small bluegills, pumpkinseeds and perch on the ice which had apparently been left recently by ice fishermen. There were about a dozen fishermen there at the time I visited and these fishermen were catching fish which were apparently live and healthy. They were taking mostly pumpkinseed, sunfish and perch, with now and then a bluegill. I could observe no apparent condition to the water that would indicate anything wrong, so at present can offer no explanation for what may have caused the die-off."

"I would appreciate hearing from you or anyone, anytime fish are observed in the process of dying as I can make fish collections and water chemistry tests at the time that will be of some value."

Muench is well known in the area, and will be present at the upcoming Ice Fishing Derby on January 13 which is being sponsored by the Northern Illinois Conservation Club, on the south end of Channel Lake, as judge of the rules committee, in charge of weighing in and measuring all entries. Over $1000 in prizes will be earned home by the expected 3000 frosty fishermen and women who participate in this popular event, the proceeds of which are to be used in the Club's conservation program and youth indoctrination effort.

Members of the League of Mercy, an organization of Salvation Army women, made a total of more than two and a half million patient visits in more than 8,000 institutions across the country last year. Many of these visits were made at Christmas time.

The Chicago Motor Club warns drivers to be alert for slippery spots throughout the winter. Tests have proved that the braking distance on glare ice is twice as long as 30 degrees as at zero. The greatest skidding dangers exist when it's just cold enough for water to freeze.

Tight Defense, Team Work Sweep Sequoits To Victory

While most people were still enjoying their Christmas presents and looking forward to the coming New Year, Rog Andrews' Fighting Sequoits were in the process of capturing the Fenton Holiday Tournament crown at Bensonville.

Led by Bob Kubicki, who scored 54 points for the three day tourney, the Sequoits topped Kelynn Park, Lake Park and Elmwood Park on three successive nights.

Their first opponent, Kelynn Park, proved a relatively easy mark. The Antioch quintet jumped off to a 20 to 5 first quarter bulge and stretched it to 35 to 14 by halftime.

In command all the way, Coach Rog Andrews gave the reserves a chance at tournament play in the fourth quarter. Led by Ken Walker with 11 points the subs out-pointed their foes 15 to 14 in the final stanza and the squad moved into the semi-finals with a final score of 69 to 39.

Their toughest test came Friday night against Lake Park. The Sequoits finally edged the Tri-County Conference entry 65 to 58.

Leading at the first quarter mark 15 to 10, the two squads scored 13 points each in the second period to give Antioch a 5 point edge at half time.

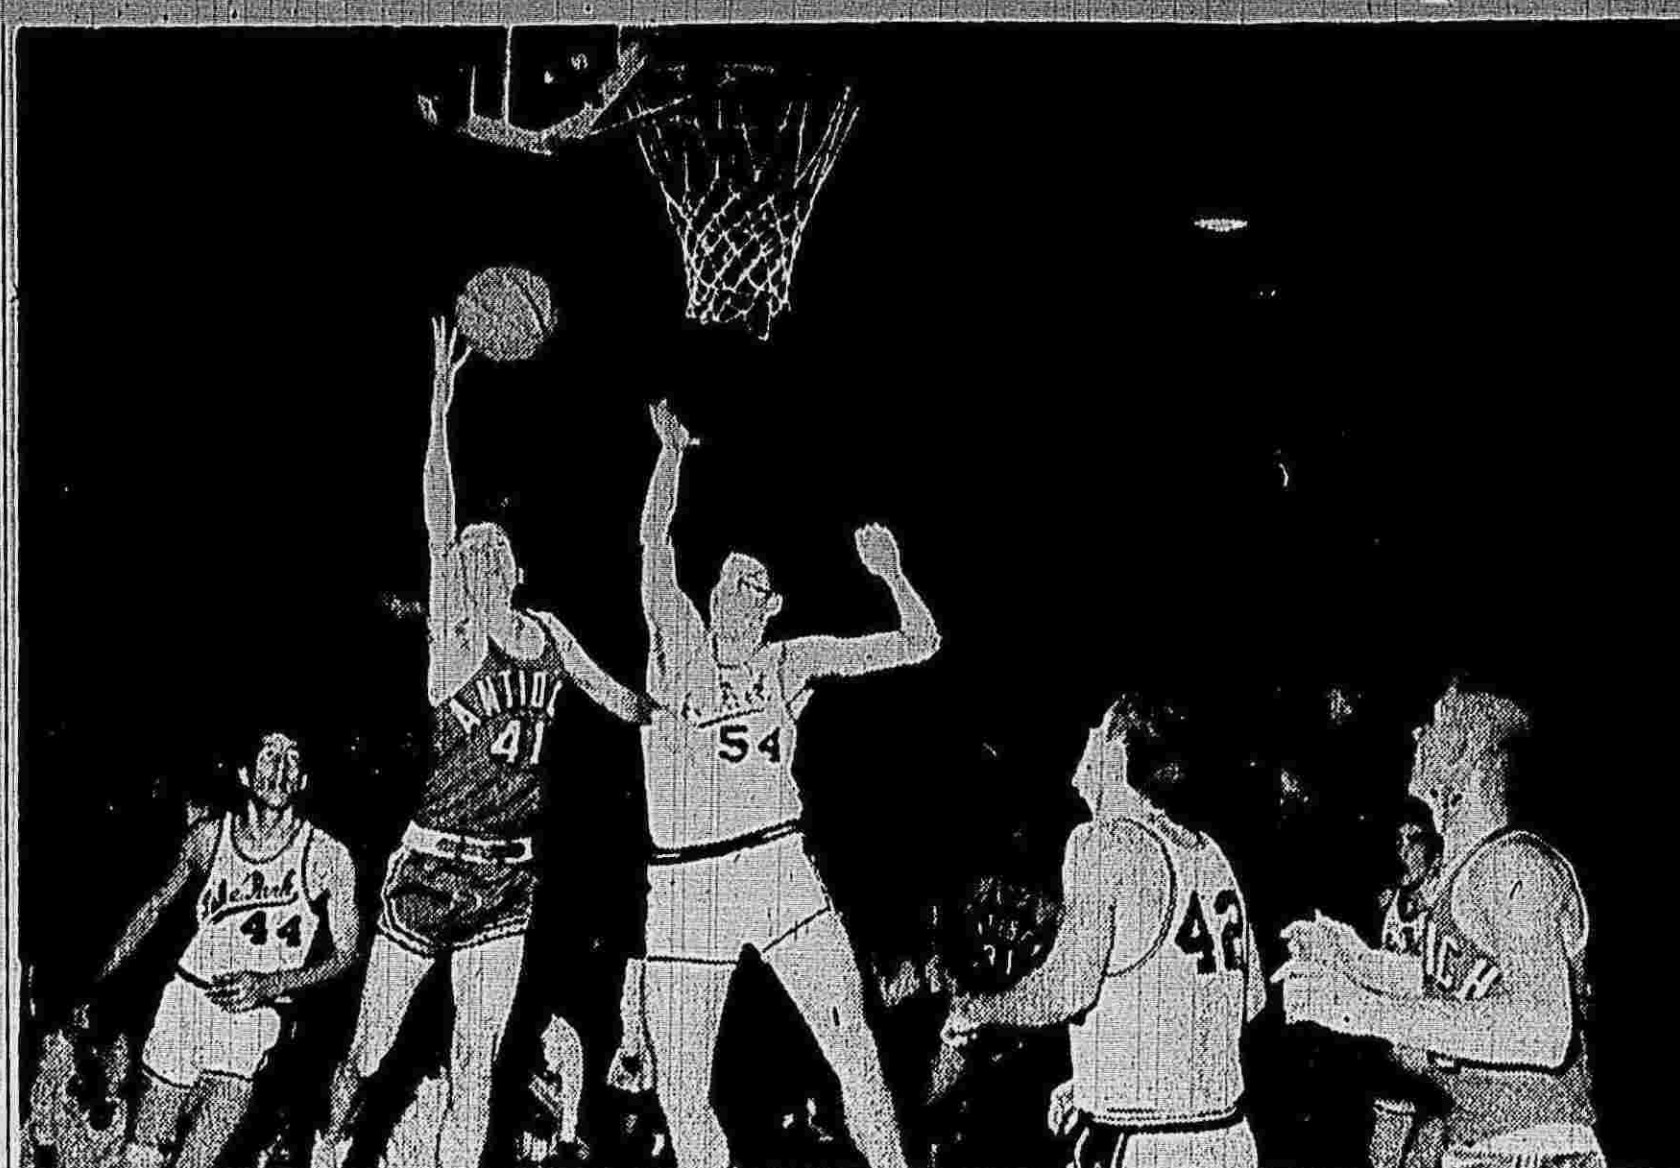

Lake Park closed the gap to 4 points in the third quarter and at one point in the final stanza, the Sequoits were resting on a slim one point lead. Lake Park got into foul trouble at this point and the Antioch squad pulled away for the victory.

Lake Park outshot the Sequoits from the field 24 baskets to 20 but greater accuracy at the free throw line proved more than enough.

In the final game against Elmwood Park, the Sequoits spotted the Parkers an early 3 point lead but rallied to take a 15 to 11 first quarter advantage. Leading only 29 to 24 at halftime the Sequoits broke it open in the third period, out-pointing their foes 13-5.

The Antioch quint's tight defense which held Elmwood Park to only 7 baskets in the second half was a big factor in the win. The Sequoits stretched their lead another 2 points in the fourth quarter to win 57 to 42.

Scoring for the tournament showed good balance with Kubicki leading with 54 points, Hallwas 36, Lang 24, Brownlee 20, Lear 23, Walker 12 and Al Gruidl with 9 counters.

A tight, aggressive defense for the three games was a big reason for the Sequoit success. Outstanding defensive performances and rebounding by Doug Lang and John Hallwas provided the extra spark needed a few times during the three day tournament. The two big boys for the Sequoits hauled in 20 and 33 rebounds respectively against taller opponents.

Strong assistance from reserve guard John Lear more than once helped the Sequoits out of a hole. "It was a fine tournament and the boys played good basketball all the way through," Coach Roger Andrews said. "It's a good one to win" he added.

Antioch returns to their home court and conference play Friday night when they meet Elva-Vernon, Elva's only conference victory thus far is a 53 to 52 win over Round Lake. They have lost to Lake Forest and Warren.

Whats

Cookin'?

By Harry H. Stern
WE CAN'T ALWAYS BE WRONG—BUT WE KEEP TRYING.

Scottie Hawkins took a group of his friends coon hunting recently up to Deer Lake. Ernie Dickson and his famous hounds were there, along with Bill Brook, Doc Thain, Don Olson, Art Trieger, Jim Carlson, Dick Kaye, John Yopp, and Pres Reckers. The dogs ran 3 or 4 coons and the party bagged one. Extremely dry weather was blamed for not running more. Sure! Sure!

It wasn't disclosed who got the coon, but it was recalled that at the Ducks Unlimited turkey shoot last fall, Young Hawkins took on a group of pretty good shots and walked off with the meat. We wonder. Hmmm!

This brings to mind the time when as was a young buck and did a lot of hunting. A group of us headed down to Prophetstown, in the Rock River bottoms, for a coon hunt.

It was an ideal night for it; misty, damp, cold and otherwise miserable. The hounds were turned loose, and in no time picked up a scent and started running it, baying all the way. The thrill of it must be experienced. The hounds master can tell from the voice of the dogs what's up, and after a bit, announced that the quarry was treed.

Off we went. Across one slough, full of hummocks and other ankle busting obstacles, slippery mud, tripping over an old barb wire fence that was down, thru a corn field one country mile long, across another slough full of the same obstacles as the first one (only more of them), and up to the tree in whose branches was our Mr. Coon.

Coon, my eye! It was a wild house cat. After it was dispatched to cat heaven, the hounds were turned loose once more, and before long the dogs gave tongue to another scent and another chase. After what seemed like hours, the call "treed" came.

Yep, you guessed it. It came from where we were in the first place. Back we went over all of the obstacles, including a few we missed on the way out, to the tree where the dogs had "it" high up on a branch. Yipes! Another cat. That broke it.

Next morning we sat down to an old fashioned farm breakfast in Ma Morse's kitchen. You know the bit. Kerosene lamp, wood stove, flapjacks frying in good old homemade lard, smoke thick enough to slice and smear on your bread. And sorghum molasses. Us had never partaken of the delicacy, but had read about it in so many outdoor stories, and how good it made things taste.

So a manhole-cover-size pancake was drowned in the stuff and a king size hunk was popped into the mouth in ecstatic anticipation. It got as far as my gullet and there it stuck. It would move neither up nor down. You've got to experience it to know it.

Ma Morse spotted my predicament and came to the rescue, good old soul. A new flapjack was deposited on a clean plate and out came some wild bee honey, which was being saved for a special occasion, and this was it. I was wary now, but needn't have been. This was ambrosia-nectar for the gods!

And it was all for me. Now you know who I came to be a "wild bee tree hunter." I have never found one, but that doesn't keep me from hunting for one. Some day I'll tell you about a bee tree I thought we found, but that is another story for another time.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH DEPT.—When you're as great as I am it's hard to be humble.

Ed Cooney, personable Assistant Supervisor of Conservation Education for this part of the state, will be on radio station WKRS Viewpoint program today (Thursday) at 3 p.m. Ed is a devoted disciple to conservation, and he was the moving spirit in getting the subject into the classrooms of our Grass Lake School. Remember how the kids there planted over 1000 pine trees on the school grounds last summer under the direction and aegis of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club? Ed was the catalyst that brought it about. In the November election, Ed's boss did not make it, and now he's gonna get the axe. Politics over ability. It's too bad, because there are not too many like him. Ability-wise and dedicated. Write the Governor.

Wauconda Wins First Title Since Late 40's

Wauconda won its first basketball title since the late 1940's Saturday night when they beat the Hiawatha Hawks 96 to 88 in a prep Holiday Tournament at Kirkland.

Hiawatha is coached by a former Wauconda mentor, John Callahan. The Bulldogs have now won 5 straight and have a 7-2 overall record. Mike Freund topped all Bulldog scorers with 36 points on 15 baskets and 6 free throws.

Wauconda led at the first quarter mark 28 to 22 but the Hites ran into the crappies near Charlie's Place. The north end also perked up. Big perch, crappies were hitting in deep water in Lake Marie—Rudy Palenik will tell you where. Crappies were also hitting on Petite Lake, out in 10 feet of water, in front of Ben Shostak's and Clemens'. Go get 'em.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS—All I want is an unfair advantage.

Dahlman Leads Scorers In College Game
